

Lyle D. Jaffe:

How would you like to be forced to molt? What if you had no choice and someone made you molt by starving, dehydrating, and imposing cruel and unethical treatment to you. Would you be happy? Do you think that God intended the creatures of the earth to be treated this way? Then why do you allow the forced molting of hens to continue?

Besides high amounts of cholesterol, and the fact that many women run the risk of getting breast cancer, eating eggs also contributes to the very likely scenario of getting food poison, obesity, heart disease, and many other health problems. Good stuff huh!?

I urge you to support the petition to ban the forced molting of hens. And to do so immediately. This inhumane and unethical treatment of our animal friends is sinfully wrong, and something that is not tolerable. Do the right thing, your soul will be glad you did in the long run.
